

Halfway down to nowhere somewhere in between the truths and lines

the rhythms and rhymes
between gods and beasts famine and feasts
between you and I and us and them, what's real
and what's dreamt

somewhere on a circle nowhere in between

some things seem simple nothing ever as it seems so close to someone
never far from seen
between so much
so much in between

you and i and us and them

somewhere in the laughter halfway to a scream

halfway up to stars
somewhere in a dream
